

Discord

Issues related to the discussion of the Discord application

- Phone number already registered

Phone number already registered

If your phone number reports as being already attached to an account

1. in the discord application select the option to add account
2. sign into the account using your phone number
3. select the reset password option
4. you will need to do some guess work here with the email
5. go into account settings and remove the account phone number
6. delete the old account if desired