

Domain Controller DNS Best Practice

It is best practice when using multiple domain controllers with the DNS role to set the servers as each others primary DNS.

For example, AD01 and AD02 servers. AD01 should be using AD02 server as it's primary DNS, while AD02 uses AD01 as it's primary DNS server. This should prevent the two servers from drifting apart and having replication issues.

Revision #1

Created 13 June 2024 01:21:01 by ColtM

Updated 7 August 2024 23:24:38 by ColtM